Subjective: Patient with chronic low back pain ongoing for 5 months. Currently completing physical therapy (see attached summary). Pain persists at baseline level with minimal improvement per patient report.

Objective: Lumbar range of motion mildly limited in flexion. Paraspinal tenderness noted on palpation bilaterally.

Assessment: Chronic low back pain, unresponsive to conservative care to date.

Plan: Requesting MRI lumbar spine to evaluate for a structural cause given the prolonged course and lack of response to physical therapy.
